Michele L. Timmons has served as the Revisor of Statutes for the State of Minnesota since 1998. During that same time period, she has also been a Commissioner on the Uniform Law Commission, and served on drafting committees for the Uniform Environmental Covenants Act and the Uniform Collateral Consequences of Conviction Act. Recently, Ms. Timmons chaired the Uniform Law Commission drafting committee for the Uniform Electronic Legal Material Act (“UELMA”). Ms. Timmons did her undergraduate work at St. Olaf College in Northfield, Minnesota, and obtained her juris doctor, cum laude, at the University of Minnesota Law School. Immediately following law school, she clerked for the Minnesota Supreme Court. Prior to becoming Revisor, Ms. Timmons had an 18-year career in county government, serving as Assistant Ramsey County Attorney, Director of the Civil Division of the County Attorney’s office, and as Director of Risk Management. Throughout her career, Ms. Timmons has managed large projects, ranging from environmental resource recovery to departmental mergers to the recent development of an XML-based computer system for bill-drafting and publishing at the Revisor’s office. Because of Ms. Timmons’ commitment to making Minnesota laws, statutes, and rules accessible on the Minnesota Legislature’s web site, and her national work on UELMA, she is the 2012 recipient of the Public Access to Government Information Award from the American Association of Law Libraries.
